Selecting "points of light"

The city illumination is a proxy for activity in cities. Including it in energy models improve the model predictions by 15%

using supplementary records data (LiDAR topography), we can figure out what buildings these are...